AAPAM 40th Roundtable Conference

African Association for Public
Administration and Management
(AAPAM)

Theme: Transforming Institutions in Africa for Sustainable Development

Venue: Cairo, Egypt

Date: October 2019

Accountable and inclusive institutions are essential to achieving Agenda 2063 and the new Agenda 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Institutions –formal and informal – determine how decisions are made, how resources are allocated, how well markets function, how natural resources are governed, how conflicts are managed and how violence and crime are prevented and addressed.

Strong institutions foster equality and trust among communities, businesses and people by securing their participation and engagement and tackling corruption, they also create a culture of integrity in service delivery. It is for that reason that the 40th Annual Roundtable Conference will focus on the theme: ‘Innovation, Transforming Institutions in Africa for Sustainable Development’.

AAPAM welcomes papers from experienced practitioners, scholars and researchers on the 40th Roundtable Conference sub-themes that will ignite conversations on how to actualize continental and worldwide development goals.
